JACOB PENZER BIO

Jacob Penzer is co-founder of JP Capital, a multi-tiered, vertically integrated cannabis company which holds licenses and operates in multiple platforms including cultivation, retail, Type-7 manufacturing as well as distribution. He manages cultivation operations for multiple large-scale grow sites in Northern California and continually identifies retail and other licensing opportunities for the company in California as well as throughout the United States and abroad.

Jacob also serves as Vice President of the Jacob and Anita Penzer Foundation, a family foundation non-profit which is involved in various different philanthropic areas. Jacob oversees philanthropy with a special focus on environmentally sustainable projects. Recent projects include assisting underfunded public schools in low-income zip codes as well as projects which assist low income children and their families across the United States.

Jacob is Vice-President of Penco LLC, which owns and manages a real estate portfolio throughout New York City, including several Class A commercial properties. Recently, Jacob led the sale of a high-rise building that marked one of the highest per-square foot sales in city history.

Jacob attended Florida Atlantic University, where he studied Business Administration, and was also an Executive Board Member of Alpha Epsilon Pi.
